The Cabinet Troubles in Spain.

SPAIN.

The Cabinet Troubles.

LONDON, September 30.—A letter in the Times this morning from Paris has the following: An accredited opinion prevails in Madrid that Senor Canevas de Castelle is about to return to the Premiership. He is displaying marvelous activity in order to lead back a conciliation Cabinet. The reason of his refusal to reconstitute the Cabinet after winning a victory on the suffrage question was his engagement with the Vatican to restore the concordat, in return for the establishment of the Papal Nuncio at Madrid, whereby to offset Papal influences in favor of the Carlists by interposing a provisional and more liberal Government. When a crisis with the Vatican threatened he expected to free Spain from the religious difficulty. This solved, he hopes to return with such moderates as consent to a convocation of the Cortes by universal suffrage, and to reconcile Germany, which was offended by his attitude on the religious question, by advocating the marriage of King Alfonso with a German Princess. On the marriage question he will have to oppose not only those who oppose German influence, but the King's family and its partisans, who favor the Montpensier alliance.

Communists in Andalusia.

MADRID, September 30.—A band of twenty-four Communists has appeared in Andalusia. They are marauding and endeavoring to cut railway and telegraphic communications. The Government has dispatched a body of troops thither to hunt them down.

TURKEY.

The Occupation of Little Redoubt.

LONDON, September 30.—The Standard's Vienna correspondent says that the proposed occupation of the island of Little Redoubt is looked upon as an indication of Turkey's intentions to force an issue with Servia.

The Alleged Circular of the Porte.

PARIS, September 30.—Le Temps says nothing is known in diplomatic circles of the alleged circular addressed by Turkey to the powers complaining of repeated violations of neutrality by Montenegro, and declaring a conflict inevitable if they continue, nor is there any knowledge of the intended occupation of a portion of Servia by Turkish troops.

Violations of Servian Territory.

VIENNA, September 30.—The Tagespresse says a diplomatic agent of Servia has handed the foreign ambassador here a memorandum enumerating Turkish violations of Servian territory.

A Collision Imminent.

LONDON, October 1.—The Times' special dispatch from Berlin states that Turkey has informed the powers that the time may come when the Turks will be obliged to repel Servian and Montenegrin inroads. The Roumanian reserves are being gradually called in. Affairs are regarded here as verging on a collision.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Fleet in China Waters.

LONDON, September 30.—The Globe this morning says there is no intention of immediately augmenting the China command. Should an increased number of vessels be required at a given point, it would be easy to meet the emergency temporarily by withdrawing the vessels usually employed in the Straits or Japanese divisions.

Specie for New York.

Cable Rates.

ITALY.

Cardinal McCloskey.

ROME, September 30.—Cardinal McCloskey took possession of his title in the church of Sancta Maria Supra Minervam at noon to-day. Many Italians and foreigners, especially Americans, witnessed the ceremony. Cardinal McCloskey entered, accompanied by thirty Dominican fathers and several prelates. Approaching the altar, he pronounced a brief prayer and seated himself in the Episcopal chair. Monsignor Catraldi then read the bull conferring the title, and the General of Dominicans delivered an address. Cardinal McCloskey replied, and closed with a prayer. A Te Deum was then sung. Afterwards the Cardinal received the spectators in the hall attached to the church.

LOUISIANA POLITICS.

Correspondence Between Packard and a Greeley Republican—Some Hints to Colored Men—How Peace and Prosperity May be Attained.

NEW ORLEANS, September 30.—A political correspondence will appear in to-morrows prints between Chairman Packard, of the Republican State Committee, and A. H. Leonard, editor of the Shreveport Times and a Greeley Liberal leader. In his communication Mr. Packard remarks: "It is much desired that the Liberal white element properly outside the Democracy should consolidate with the colored voters, that the Liberal element will then be reinforced in members so as to be always able to maintain a party ascendency over the Democrats and the colored men will be reinforced with intelligence sufficient to insure a wise and honest administration of parish and State affairs devolving on them as a majority; but the fear of ostracism from the white people has prevented such capable men as were or would have been tendered station from accepting nominations, while the Republicans, when electing such as they were best able to command as candidates, were denounced for not electing better men. What a commentary on politics! The colored elector is unwilling to leave his political organization to join a Democratic one, so hostile to his interests, but his vote may be relied upon to reward those willing to promote his and the State's welfare to the end of a Government honest and scrupulous to protect his person and property in accordance with the National Republican purpose. The business and agricultural interests demand the abandonment of the color line in politics and the consolidation of the anti-Democratic vote, white and black, to revive confidence and good feeling. Then, indeed, will there be peace and prosperity in Louisiana."

Mr. Leonard, replying, says: "If the Republican party intends to carry into effect the principles announced in the declaration of its leaders, those leaders will, at the next session of the Assembly, aid in carrying through and thus secure the passage of all measures looking to reform. Peace and good government can be established without difficulty if the leading men will only rise superior to mere partisan views. I will co-operate with any party and with all men who honestly endeavor to secure that result. I consider such a letter as that which I have had the pleasure of receiving from you a high compliment, and while we may not be able to agree on all points, I shall certainly not regret our efforts to co-operate, if possible, and I am persuaded some good will result therefrom."

MINE EXPLOSION.

Two Miners Killed and Several Injured.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., September 30.—By an explosion of gas in the Anchor Colliery, at Heckerville, this morning, James Adams and Arthur Hunt were killed, and Isaac Wilson probably fatally wounded. Michael Butler and Peter Franks were severely injured about the head and body, and Moses James, a boy, was slightly burned. These men were on duty last night in the mine, and were ordered to leave by the fire boss this morning, who began to clear it of the gases that had accumulated. The men refused to go out, and during the process of driving out the gas it exploded from the miners' lamps, with the above result.

The Affairs of Lee & Shepherd.

BOSTON, September 30.—The committee appointed by the creditors of Lee & Shepherd reported to-day. The report showed the total assets of the firm to be $153,206; direct liabilities, $489,740; contingent liabilities, $135,537; gross liabilities, $625,277.84; net liabilities, that is, deducting contingent liabilities, which will probably not fall upon the firm, $578,230. Lee & Shepherd make a proposition to pay twenty cents on the dollar, secured by notes on short terms, without interest. The committee report the causes of the disaster as consisting in an excess of business expenses, deterioration of stereotype plates, and the loan of credit. Several of the creditors wished security for the notes, and were willing to take fifteen cents cash. Hurd & Houghton proposed that an assignment be made in order to realize cash. The meeting was postponed for two weeks, in order to give the firm time to make a new proposition.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 30, 1875.

Decision on a Railway Tax.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue decided that under the act of July 14, 1870, railroad corporations are liable to a 5 per cent. tax, instead of 2½ per cent., to August 1st, 1870, on the amount of all dividends, earnings, income or gains which had accrued before that date, and also on all undivided profits earned by a company prior to that date and added to any surplus, contingent or other fund. This question came up on an application from the Illinois Central Railroad Company to abate the tax assessed at the rate of 5 per cent., claiming that 2½ per cent. was the legal rate under the fifteenth section of the act above mentioned.

FALL RIVER.

A Change in the Situation for the Better—The Strikers Gradually Going to Work—Mass Meeting of Operatives.

FALL RIVER, MASS., September 30.—Everything here is quiet. There has been a decided change in affairs since yesterday. A large number of help went to work this morning, and others gave their respective mills notice that they would resume work to-morrow. All the mills running have large additions to their force. The Merchants mill started this morning for the first time. There is plenty of work in the spooling and carding rooms. The weavers continue to come in. The Richard Borden mill is full in all its departments except the weaving. Eight hundred and fifty looms are running, and this department is constantly being supplied. The Slade mill is running five hundred looms, and a number of their help have given notice of resumption to-morrow. The Durfee mills have forty-eight spinners, and their weavers are coming forward rapidly. In fact all the mills have sufficient help, excepting spinners and weavers, and some have turned away applicants for carding and spooling.

About 2,000 persons attended the operatives' mass meeting in the park this afternoon. Rev. Jesse H. Jones spoke, counseling patience on the part of the operatives and assuring them that their cause was a righteous one and must prevail.

A statement embodying the grievances of the operatives was read and unanimously adopted. It proposed arbitration for the settlement of all impending differences. The following proposition was submitted to take the place of the agreement proposed by the mill owners:

Having accepted the rate of wages, we agree not to break our engagement at the command of others except we choose to do so, and we will seek for the abandonment of all violent and coercive measures on the part of any operative or body of operatives in deciding matters between us and our employers.

Suicide of a Forger.

INDIANAPOLIS, September 30.—Wm. S. Wood, a prominent man at Greenfield, Ind., President of the Greenfield Manufacturing Company, committed suicide at the Union Depot Hotel here this morning. Financial troubles are the alleged cause. Very recently Mr. Wood made application for a $7,000 policy in the Franklin Insurance Company. The application was accepted and the policy forwarded to Greenfield yesterday. Mr. Wood also held a policy in the Masonic Mutual, Odd Fellows' Protector, and North Life Mutual of Maine, amounting to $11,000. In several notes found in his room he stated that he had forged the names of his father and father-in-law on notes held by the Citizens' National Bank of the city for $1,000, and the First National Bank of Cambridge for $4,000.

Exposition.

Yesterday there was a perfect rush for space, both to exhibit and also for the sale of goods in the Exposition. Our home people seem now to be satisfied that the whole Exposition scheme will be a grand success. Goods are now arriving in large quantities on every train, in addition to our home demand for space, and persons who had stands for the sale of goods in Chicago and other cities are coming here and engaging stands for the sale of goods, having realized largely on similar investments in other cities, and know what can be done. The demand yesterday far exceeds any other day, and the excitement still seems to increase—we are informed by the committee having it in charge, C. H. Love and J. S Keating, 121 Fourth.

THE INDIAN COUNCIL.

Negotiating for the Black Hills.

The Chiefs Want $70,000,000—The Commissioners Give Up All Hope of Consummating a Treaty—The Propositions Submitted.

RED CLOUD AGENCY, September 29, VIA SIDNEY, NEB., September 30.—The Commissioners met the Indian council Tuesday. Three hundred chiefs were present. Red Cloud, chief of the Ogallalas, on behalf of the Indians, said he felt better than heretofore. He said he considered the Hills more valuable in precious metals than the entire wealth of the United States. He proposed to ask a large sum for them, the principal to be put out at interest, and from the latter derive sufficient to keep the Sioux nation. In addition he wanted a grant annually to each head of an Indian family of six yoke of oxen, a wagon, a span of horses, harness, a bull, cow, sow, boar, sheep, rams, chickens, and other domestic fowls, coffee, tea, sugar, side meat, rice, cracked corn, beans, dried-apples, and a host of other articles. He enumerated also a house and furniture, the same as the white men. He said the Government is trying to make a white man out of him, and he Wanted the Indulgences of White Men.

He wanted a saw-mill for every tribe of the Sioux nation, the removal of troops from the post adjacent to the agencies, also the right of appointing Indian agents, employes and traders. He was emphatic in his demand for Catholic clergy for special instructors. He said God had given his people the Black Hills so that they might all subsist from wealth. He opposed any roads to the Black Hills except the one made by Custer from Bismarck, which he designated as

"Thieves Road."

He wanted all half-breeds and white men who married squaws treated the same as Indians. He described the limits of the Black Hills he wished to sell. He emphatically opposed disposing of the Big Horn and Powder River country.

Lone Horn's "Talk."

He was followed by Lone Horn, Chief of the Arrapahoes, in a speech similar in tone to Red Cloud's. He insisted on the removal of agents and employes, and putting in men acceptable to the Indians. He said all the Indians had put their heads together in opinion, and wanted Catholic missionaries as instructors.

He was followed by other chiefs, all in the same strain, who demanded that the boundary line of the reservation be extended to the middle of the Platte river in Nebraska. He wanted the survey stopped.

On Wednesday the Commissioners met the Indians in council at 2 P. M. About seven hundred chiefs were present, all old men. Gen. Terry personally superintended the placing of cavalry in position. He had out videttes and skirmishers to prevent surprise and quiet unruly Indians. The result of to-day's proceedings consisted in a recapitulation of Tuesday's exorbitant demands for additional provisions and annuities. One of the chiefs asks part payable in cash, the remainder at interest, the proceeds from the latter to purchase such articles as Indians require. Each of the speakers to-day demanded Catholic instructors.

Red Cloud, in a speech, said, six generations of Indians had passed away. The seventh's only condition, if the Sioux nation sells the hills, would be the guarantee that President Grant would provide for the Indians for six succeeding generations. (An Indian generation is one hundred years.)

Most of the Indian speakers to-day made similar demands as to the conditions of selling the Black Hills. Demands were made that the Government by treaty reimburse white men for losses sustained by white men by Indian marauders.

To-morrow the Commissioners will submit a treaty proposition. The Commissioners have come to the conclusion that it is impossible to make a treaty in the present temper of the Indians. Before adjourning the Commissioners informed the Indians that they would submit treaty propositions in the morning.

"Poor Lo" Surprised.

The Commissioners met the Indians at the council grounds and submitted a treaty. Spotted Tail and Red Cloud, the two chiefs, expressed much surprise at the small amount offered by the Government for the Black Hills. They said they would have to call a council of Indians. There will be no answer for two days. From the general tone of the Indians and reliable information, the following will be the answer of the Indians to the Commissioners' proposition: The Indians refuse to entertain the proposition relinquishing their rights in the Big Horn and Powder river country; demand the closing of all routes to the Black Hills except Custer's from Bismarck; religious instruction, in charge of Catholic control; the appointment of agent and employes at the agency, the latter to be largely increased, sufficient to keep the Indians without work for seven generations; and the troops removed from all agencies.

The Commissioners give up all hope of consummating a treaty, and will return home in a few days.

The Proposed Treaty.

The following is the substance of the treaty submitted to the Indians in council to-day:

Provisions made this — day of September, 1875, by the Commissioners of the United States of America to the Sioux nation of Indians on the White river, near Crow Butte, Neb.

WHEREAS, The Commissioners on the part of the United States and the Sioux nation have been in grand council for several days with reference to the acquisition of certain rights in the Black Hills, and the purchase of what is known as the Big Horn Mountain country, the Commissioners for the United States, in pursuance of a promise made in grand council on the 27th of September, submit to the Sioux Nation the following proposition in writing to purchase a license to mine, and also incidental thereto the right to raise stock and cultivate the soil in the country known as the Black Hills, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the junction of the north and south forks of the Cheyenne River, and embracing all the territory between said rivers lying west of said junction to 104 meridian of longitude west of Greenwich, the United States agreeing to pay therefor the sum of $400,000 per annum, the United States reserving the right to terminate said license at any time by giving two years' notice by proclamation and the payment of the full amount stipulated for the time the license may continue, and on the expiration of said time all private property remaining upon said territory shall revert to the Sioux nation, and that such an amount of said $400,000 as Congress shall determine, not less than $100,000 annually, shall be expended for objects beneficial for their civilization, and the remainder of said annual sum shall in like manner be expended for subsistence, or, if the Sioux nation prefer it, to purchase the Black Hills as above described from the Sioux Nation, and to pay them for the interest thereon the sum of six million dollars in fifteen annual instalments, said sum to be annually appropriated for subsistence and civilization, not less than $100,000 of which shall be annually expended for purposes of civilization; that the President of the United States shall, under proper restrictions and regulations, designate routes to the Black Hills country, as follows, to wit: One from the south between the 102d and 103d meridians, one from the east not further north than latitude 43¼ until it reaches the 103d meridian, and one from the west not north of latitude 44; also a branch road from some point on the Niobrara river to intersect either the eastern or southern route at some convenient point not west of the 103d meridian west of Greenwich.

The Commissioners furthermore propose to purchase all that portion of what is known as the Big Horn country in Wyoming which lies west of a line drawn as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northwest corner of the State of Nebraska, and running in a northwesterly direction until it reaches the Yellowstone river where the 107th meridian west of Greenwich crosses said river, and to pay them for their interest thereon the sum of $50,000 annually for ten years, to be paid in gold, American cows and other live stock, as may be deemed advisable by the President.

Any agreement which may be made shall be of no binding force upon either party until it shall have been submitted and agreed to by Congress, and approved by the President of the United States; and any agreement for the purchase of the Black Hills country shall be of no effect until it be so agreed to and approved, and until it shall be signed, in accordance with the 12th article of the treaty of 1868.

The Commissioners propose that in case of acceptance by the Sioux nation of the above propositions, and after the proposed agreement shall have been complied with as above set forth, the sum of $50,000 shall be expended in presents, to be distributed as customary in such cases among Indian people.

EXPOSITIONISMS.

Meeting of the Executive Committee—The Press Matter—Some Appointments Made—Brief Notes of Things in General.

The dissatisfaction in reference to journalistic matters was taken up and somewhat discussed. The action of the publishers, as noted elsewhere, was reported by a committee from them, and was concurred in. Resolutions were then passed, which in substance rescinded all official and unofficial action heretofore taken in reference to the entertainment of visiting journalists, and the matter was left in the hands of the publishers. It was also resolved that the daily press of Allegheny county be recognised as the official journalistic representatives of the Exposition, and that no official Guide be published, that matter being left entire to private enterprise. All difficulties were thus amicably arranged and the harmony of feeling was restored. Minor matters of interest engaged the attention of the Committee during the remainder of the session.

Resolved, That all special papers and guides be excluded from publication within the Exposition building, and all former action of the Executive Committee on this subject is hereby rescinded.

Resolved, That we except, from the above, the resolution adopted September 29th, constituting the press of Allegheny county the official organs of the Exposition.

Chief Hague reported a list of special policemen chosen to do duty at the Exposition. The list was approved.

Mr. McAndliss was appointed chief ticket agent.

Messrs. Orr and Townley were appointed to serve with the General Manager, Judge Parke, in allotting and measuring off space to exhibitors to-day. They will be at the Exposition all day, and will attend to the wants of exhibitors.

The committee after transacting some other routine business then adjourned.

MINOR NOTES.

The Exposition building is receiving the finishing touches, and its fair proportions can now be justly appreciated.

All day yesterday was occupied in arranging the space and classifying the goods at the Exposition building, which was superintended by Mr. Scanlon, who has been connected with the Cincinnati Exposition. From present appearances the large room will be crowded with attractive articles.

The Allegheny Fire Department received an invitation yesterday to take part in the parade on the opening day. It is probable that it will be accepted by the Committee on Fire Engines, and that the Department will be ordered out.

The members of Allegheny Councils, it is said, will receive complimentary season tickets to the Exposition. This courtesy will be shown in return for the kindness of Councils in giving the free use of Smoky Island to the Institute.

The centre of the building will be occupied by a collection of flowers and plants, which will cover about two thousand square feet. The work on the foundation for the basin of the fountain was commenced yesterday morning. The basin will be set off with rustic work—rocks, ferns, &c., which will be surrounded by flowers. The fountain to be used belongs to Mr. George Finley, of East Liberty.

The immense area under the building is being put in good shape for occupancy by the various refreshment stands, saloons, etc.

Applications for space are still coming in, and many who intend to exhibit their wares are preparing to place them in position.

In accordance with the suggestion of the GAZETTE, it has been decided to do away with the side-boards which were to have adorned the press headquarters in the Exposition building. This action was taken by those who originated the idea of a "sideboard" entertainment, but who readily acquiesced in its impropriety when they came to view the situation from a proper stand point.

ELEGANT CHURCH EDIFICE.

Oakland Methodist Episcopal Chapel—Its Elegant Design and Superb Appointments for Divine Service and Sunday School Purposes—Dedicatory Services—Rev. W. D. Stevens.

The new Oakland M. E. Chapel, corner of Forbes and Boquet streets, Fourteenth ward, to be dedicated Sunday, October 3d, is a gem in all of its appointments. The trustees very sensibly purchased plenty of ground, and selected an eligible location. The plot contains an acre, which gives ample space for the main structure, to be erected, and the chapel just completed, with plenty of room for the parsonage and for walks and ornamentation. The chapel is so located in the plot as to make the main edifice front on Forbes street, while the chapel is entered from Boquet street, by massive stone steps and a handsome doorway. The ground on both streets is enclosed by a neat iron fence, with tasteful cemented walks.

The building is plain gothic, fifty-four by forty, except the rear end, which is widened to about fifty feet, with handsome buttress at each corner. It is built of pressed brick, with stone facings, and the basement is covered with cement, stone colored. The edifice inside and outside is of the most approved style of architecture.

The inside of the chapel is very attractive, and is arranged in the form of two stories at one end, with a handsome balcony on the second floor, the whole to be used as one auditorium, when desirable, and during the sessions of the Sabbath school, the three small rooms on each story may be closed by glass doors. The largest room upon the first floor, in range of the pulpit, is for the Infant class, the other end room is for the library, which is unique and well worth a visit by all Sunday school workers, and the middle room may be used for church or school purposes. The upper floor contains also three rooms to correspond with those below, while immediately in the front area of the balcony are seats for worshippers at divine service, at which time the six rooms become virtually a part of the auditorium, and persons seated therein are in range of the pulpit, the upper ones being reached by a flight of stairs from the vestibule at the door-way.

The walls are a bright blue-gray tint, and below the window-sills, brown stone color, while the ceiling is exquisitely frescoed. The massive windows are filled with beautiful stained glass, of rich and variegated colors, and the wood-work is painted a dark mahogany color, brightly varnished, with pulpit-stand and furniture to correspond. A large chandelier, with a cluster of burners, a plentiful supply of gas-jets for the walls, lights the room brilliantly. The ventilation and heating apparatus are of the most modern style. Chairs will be used for public service and for the Sunday school. Immediately in front of the pulpit-stand is erected a fountain of beautiful pattern, which renders the exercises of the Sunday school more attractive.

This beautiful specimen of church architecture is, perhaps, the finest in the two cities, at least in its tasteful arrangement, modern appointments for divine service and Sunday school purposes, and its rich design, and cost over $15,000, besides the ground. There are two or three chapels in this city that cost more, but lack the beauty and convenience of this building. It will be an ornament to that part of the city, and is in admirable keeping with the palatial style of many of the private residences thereabouts. The pastor, Rev. W. D. Stevens, and those associated with him in this grand project, are entitled to much praise for its successful termination. The chapel will be formally opened, as stated, next Sabbath, Rev. Dr. B. F. Brooke, of this city, Rev. A. B. Leonard, of Cincinnati, and other ministers assisting the pastor on the occasion.

THE other day there was re-cast at the bell foundry of A. Fulton's Son & Co., a bell that was cast at the same foundry in 1863. It weighs a ton and is for St. Michael's Church, South side.

THE Eliza furnaces are blowing away at an easy pace, the two making about 700 tons per week. This is not their full capacity, but it is all that is required in the present state of the iron trade.

THE new gas-heating furnace at the Sligo Iron Works, on the South Side, is now being operated right along, and we believe it gives entire satisfaction. The furnace generates its own gas, and is something new in its line.

MESSRS. WHITMORE, WOLFF, LANE & Co., importers and dealers in hardware and cutlery, who were burned out last February, have reoccupied their old stand, 50 Wood street, where for the past 30 years the firm have conducted the jobbing hardware business. This firm has been in existence for forty years.

CRAWFORD county has in operation 68 factories, producing 6,310,000 pounds of cheese; Erie county 22 factories, producing 2,610,000 pounds of cheese; Mercer and Venango counties 11 factories, producing 647,700 pounds of cheese; the aggregate in the four northwest counties of Pennsylvania is 101 factories, producing 9,557,700 pounds of cheese.

THERE are indications of a turn for the better in the iron industries of the West and Southwest. Furnaces out of blast for months are now again blowing, though there is some trouble among them in consequence of the lack of coal. The Pennsylvania works in many cases are running on full time and with heavy forces, particularly those manufacturing rails, sheet iron and agricultural implements. The nail manufactories of Ohio also report activity. From other localities given to the manufacture of specialties, a large improvement is reported.

MESSRS. SMITH, SUTTON & Co., of the La Belle Steel Works, employ constantly a force of two hundred hands, and have a capacity for turning out 5,000 tons of steel annually. They manufacture all kinds of iron centre, soft steel centre, and plow steel, making a specialty of German plow steel, also machinery steels, cast and German spring steels, and cast tool steels of every description. These works are supplying the principal safe manufacturers in the United States with steel used in the construction of safes. They turned last year 3,000 tons of carriage springs, and from their new spring shop just completed they will be able to turn out 150 pairs of carriage and wagon springs per day. They have manufactured in the course of the last six years 35,000 sets of horse-rake teeth. Their trade extends throughout the United States and Canadas, and in the steady, unremitting press of business they have been unable to see bottom on their orders for two years. They have in connection with their steel works a large rolling mill, and manufacture their own iron.

LOVE, MARRIAGE AND DEATH.

William Russell, who lives near Roseville, Pa., was left a widower about five years ago. He had one daughter, Hattie, aged sixteen. Mr. Russell then brought into his house a young girl, aged sixteen, named Mary Stokes, and soon signified his intention of marrying Mary. Hattie, discovering an intimacy between her father and Mary, left home. This brought Mr. Russell temporarily to his senses; he sent Mary away, and Hattie returned to her father's house. Russell had a neighbor named Hurst, with whom he had quarreled. The son of this neighbor, Horton Hurst,

MADE LOVE TO HATTIE RUSSELL.

This enraged Russell, and he threatened his daughter with punishment if she should ever marry young Hurst. Time passed on, and one day, according to a correspondent of the New York Sun, Russell told his daughter that he intended to marry the girl Mary Stokes and bring her home. Hattie was indignant, but Russell was firm, and one day the old man left his house, intending to wed the juvenile Mary. Hattie then determined to wed young Horton Hurst. She left home after writing this note to her father:

DEAR FATHER: I have always tried to be a dutiful daughter to you, but the act you intend to do to-day is more than I can submit to, as I have more than once told you. You choose a companion above me. I hope she will be as true to you as I have been, and that you will both be very happy. Do you think I am writing this with a light heart, although in leaving the home of my childhood I go to find a home with one I have long loved, and whose wife I expect to be in a few hours. God bless you, father, and good-by.

Your once-loved daughter,
HATTIE.

Hattie was married to young Hurst that day, and her father was united to Mary Stokes. When Russell returned, and read his daughter's note, he started off to be avenged on the young man who had married his daughter. He found the young bride and bridegroom surrounded by their friends, and

ENJOYING THEIR WEDDING DINNER.

"You d—d scoundrel!" he exclaimed. "You set my daughter up to leave her home!"

He grasped Hurst by the throat, but the young man threw him off and commenced backing toward the door. Russell seized a knife from the table, and, getting between Hurst and the door, attempted to stab the young man. Hurst received the thrust in his arm, and, seeing that the old man was bent on murder, drew a revolver and warned him to stand back. Russell did not heed the warning, and continued to make deadly lunges with the knife. Finally, Hurst, to protect his life, pointed his revolver at Russell and pulled the trigger. At this moment Hattie Russell sprang between the two men and received the bullet in her brain. Hurst, rendered insane by the knowledge that he had killed his newly wedded wife, shot himself through the head and fell dead by her side. A terrible excitement followed. Russell was arrested and held in $2,000 to await the action of the Grand Jury. A verdict that Mrs. Harriet R. Hurst met her death by the accidental discharge of a pistol, and Horton Hurst came to his death by his own hand while temporarily insane, was rendered.

THE latest rumor is that GEORGE DAWSON COLEMAN has been offered the Secretaryship of the Interior. We know nothing of the truth of this. The President entertains a very kindly feeling for Mr. COLEMAN, and this may account for the rumor.

SENATOR WALLACE, in his Clearfield speech, declaims against the funding of the overdue loan of the State in 1867, as a vicious measure, originated in the interest of the Treasury clique. WILLIAM H. KEMBLE, then State Treasurer, shows, not only that the funding was necessary and just, in the interest of the people, but that WALLACE voted for it. Bad to misstate facts when men with strong memories are around.

OUR evening contemporary,—mutual admiration No. 1,—fumbles around rather wildly, and intimates that it will not do us the favor to apply to us for lessons in journalistic courtesy. We suppose not,—yet we are glad that it thus impliedly confesses that it is badly in need of the article. We are not particular as to where it goes for it, although we can assure it, it will not find much in the company it has been keeping of late.

THE contest in Ohio rapidly approaches its close, and the report that repeaters are to go there to vote for HAYES is one of the advance evidences of the coming defeat of ALLEN. It is perfectly evident that the tide is moving very heavily in favor of the Republicans, the strength of the Democracy being largely exhausted, and that of the Republican revived by fresh and vigorous help. CARL SCHURZ is a host in himself, and he has done noble work for the Republican cause. If the Republican vote is out, no question is entertained by any as to the result. It is not doubted that this vote will be out, and that HAYES will be the next Governor of Ohio.

ACCORDING to the returns made at the last session of the Grand Lodge at Indianapolis, the Order of Odd Fellows has reached very large numbers. They had at the beginning of the present year 5,965 lodges, with a membership aggregating 437,719, there having been an increase of 23,000 during the last year. Pennsylvania contains the greatest number of Odd Fellows, more than twice as many as any other State, her total being 96,844. The second State is Ohio, with 44,343, and the third New York, with 38,429. The aggregate receipts of all the lodges during the year 1874, were $3,988,442, of which $1,371,313 was expended for relief.

A LIFE of brutality and crime is not so free from danger as seems, by some to be imagined. O'Baldwin, the Irish giant, a brawny, strong-fisted man, belonging to the bruiser fraternity of New York, proposed to dissolve partnership with the person engaged in a bar room business with him, when suddenly two shots from a pistol ended both partnership and life. O'Baldwin commanded the unqualified admiration of those who enjoy prize fights, and his feats of brutal strength did much to inspire a love for the "manly art" among those who frequented his saloon. So he lived, wielding a vicious, corrupt influence, and thus he died. If the manner of his death shall do anything to correct the evil influence of his life, he may be said to have died for his country's good. His death has the general lesson for all that a life of crime does not pay.

SENATOR WALLACE is evidently of the mind that the "flood gates of abuse" are not entirely confined to the Republican press, as some Democratic journals would have us believe. He complains he is vilified, by persons within his own party. His Clearfield speech has the following pathetic and sad refrain: "Again the flood gates of calumny have been thrown open, and again I have been arraigned through the efforts of those whose ambitious paths I impede, and again I have tried to bear myself with equanimity. I come to you, my friends and neighbors, who know me best, for that support in which you have never failed me. As your Senator for thirteen years I won your approval. As one of your Senators in Congress I ask for tolerance and charity. Judge me by my official acts. I shall try so to bear myself that I will not forfeit your esteem." So the good fortune of the Senator is greatly envied him.

THE Pacific Mail Company seems to be gradually emerging from its difficulties. By the statement laid before the Board of Directors by GEORGE S. SCOTT, Vice President, the earnings for July and August, gross and net, are given, showing $234,500 net out of $1,000,000 gross, August yielding $143,000 net from $517,000 gross. As no other months are quoted, it is fair to presume that March, April, May and June yielded little or no net revenue. This is quite possible, as every expenditure has to be charged to account of current expense; the company having no construction account, and not issuing bonds or additional capital stock. The financial position of the company is illustrated by the statement that its indebtedness on March 1, including all payments due up to December 1, but excluding the loan from the Panama Railroad Company, was $1,475,000, and it is now reduced to $7,500 net. The liabilities are thus reduced by the sum of $1,467,500, and the company may be described as practically out of debt. By what means this amount of debt has been extinguished is not stated. Of course the means have been supplied partly from earnings and partly from sales of property. For instance, the San Francisco agency was in debt $700,000 on March 1; by June 21, this debt was reduced to $25,000, and $480,000 of the money came from sale of superfluous real estate, and $65,000 from sale of a steamer, the remainder being remitted from New York. What other property, if any, has been sold, we do not know. Mr. Scott says that the gratifying reduction of the Company's debt is mainly due to the economy of the Company's modern screw steamers. If, therefore, these vessels have enabled the Company to save $900,000 in seven months (which, with sales of property just mentioned, would make the reduction of debt reported today), the subsequent payments on the three steamers now coming in from the contractor will be made with perfect ease.

THE President's speech to his soldier friends is one of the events of the day. It was entirely unexpected, and was rather humorously introduced. His range of remarks included all the topics that are most rife, and his expressions are peculiarly compact and sensible. He reminds that while all just rights shall be accorded the people of the South, an indiscriminate sentimental forgiveness, that is equivalent to an apology, is not to be offered them. The President is of too rugged make to be caught in the toils of a wicked and foolish sentimentalism, that would make it a grievance that the gentlemen who did their utmost to destroy the nation have been kept out of the public office so long. It is a vicious feature of the times, the effort to create the impression that because the war has been ended ten years, it is a wrong to remember the crimes of the bad men who sought their country's ruin. We are glad the President has spoken so definitely on this point. He was equally definite over the school question, declaring that the effort to divert school funds to sectarian purposes must be met and resisted. He urges this for the reason, among others, that, if another war is had, he thinks it will be between intelligence and ignorance. He, therefore, thinks the State should care for the education of its children. It was a grand speech in point and pith.

THOROUGH WORK.

We would have our friends, particularly in this county, remember, that we need, this year, earnest, careful, organized work, in behalf of the entire ticket. The current of feeling is entirely favorable, but it will require organization, owing to the events of last year. There was never a time when suitable effort would more easily secure success than the present. The Democracy are unfortunate in their State ticket and have serious dissensions over their ticket in this county. The trouble here is, that it is so heavily weighted with the Catholic element, and none of the candidates will withdraw, despite the fact that serious efforts have been made to compel it. While the people are not desirous of making a specialty of the religious question in this county, the fact is, there is a large amount of excitement and, indeed, reason for apprehension, over the demands made by the Catholic Church for a division of the school funds. It is perfectly well known that an organized effort is being made by the authorities of the Catholic Church, to break down our public school system; hence any preponderance of the Catholic element on a ticket is a noticeable and dangerous circumstance. And when a ticket is very largely freighted with it, the danger is all the greater. It is simply necessary to state that this is the character of the Democratic ticket in this county.

We have a different class of reasons for objecting to the State ticket. The platform aside, and the candidates have been shown to have been copperheads during the war.—PERSHING having been identified with several public movements designed to embarrass the Union cause, and PIOLLET, less publicly, but none the less earnestly, furthering the same evil purpose. Further, PERSHING opposed the repeal of the tax on real estate, and favored laws oppressive to the poor. These are facts which Democratic journals have not sought to deny. They stand undisputed, in the official records of the Legislature. PIOLLET came so near being bribed, that he hardly knew for awhile whether he was bribed or cheated. These facts are spread abroad, and will not fail to exert a very large influence on the votes of the people. Still, over-confidence is not a warlike virtue, and in the present canvass we need to rouse ourselves to full and energetic effort, particularly in this county, and for the entire ticket.

OVER-LOADED.

The load we have been carrying, and which the country is staggering under, was imposed upon us by the perfidy and insane folly of the Southern wing of the Democratic party, and countenanced by its Northern allies, known as Copperhead Democrats. The mind can scarcely comprehend the magnitude of the debt resulting from the war of the rebellion inaugurated under the last Democratic Administration, while JAMES BUCHANAN was President. The country is not likely to forget this legacy of debt bequeathed to us in the expiring hours of a cowardly and treacherous Administration, nor be able to pay it off before the second centennary shall have been celebrated at Philadelphia in 1976.

Let us reduce this debt to some measure that the common mind can grasp and comprehend. Our war debt at its highest figures in 1866 was two thousand seven hundred and seventy-three millions two hundred and thirty-six thousand dollars. A silver dollar weighs one ounce. In pounds of sixteen ounce, or dollars to the pound, the debt weighed one hundred and seventy-three million three hundred and twenty thousand two hundred and fifty pounds. Suppose we load up this silver into the ordinary road wagons, and learn how many wagons would be required to haul it. A common four-horse team can easily haul a ton and a quarter, or 2,500 pounds to the wagon. It would require six hundred and ninety-two thousand three hundred and thirty-one such teams to transport it from one point to another. Suppose we start these teams from, say Harrisburg, going west, and allow sixty feet of road way to each team and wagon, we find that we would have a continuous line of wagons all the way to Chicago, or seven hundred and eighty-seven miles long.

Think of it! A line of 787 miles of wagons filled with silver, necessary to pay the debt imposed upon us by the same rebels who now seek to control a Government that they exhausted themselves and their country, in a diabolical but fruitless effort to destroy.

Of this debt we have already paid in principal and interest, over sixteen hundred millions of dollars, or one hundred and two millions, six hundred and eighty-seven thousand, five hundred pounds of silver, which would require forty-one thousand and twenty four-horse teams to transport, and would form a continuous line of four hundred and sixty-seven miles—the distance between Pittsburgh and Chicago. Is it not marvelous that the country has borne such a drain upon its resources and still be able to present such an appearance of comparative prosperity as it does at this time—gloomy as it may appear to many of us? Nor does this debt represent one-third of the wastes of the war, of values absolutely lost and nothing to show for them but a Government vindicated and a Union preserved.

In calculating the cost of the war of the rebellion, we must estimate the loss of the labor of one million of men for four years, in addition to what is known and tangible. Yet we are told that we must forget and forgive all this. How can we forget when this mountain of debt is crushing us to the earth? Let us inquire how the Southern States forget the diabolism that begot the rebellion. We have to answer by saying, that they reward the instigators and perpetrators of that great crime, by sending them as their representatives to Congress. We may theorize and philosophize in regard to the "panic" as we may, but the great fact stands out so clearly that no one need err, as to the cause of our depression. It is from exhaustion. We might as well call the cyclone that recently visited Texas a "panic." A panic is the result of unfounded alarm. The cyclone was a terrible fact. The war was a cyclone of the bad passions of men, and born of the womb of rebellion and Democracy.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

The Mysterious London Murder—An International Potato Show—A Huge Gun—Newtown Limivady—Some Statistics—A New Printing Press—Some Problems in Reduction—A Sound Bank—A Maiden Assize.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

LONDON, September 18, 1875.

The last sensation in London has all of the mystery, horror and general bloodiness that might be expected from London, by a student of Reynolds and Ainsworth. A boy is asked by a woman to carry two large parcels for her some little distance to a cab. The boy complies, hoping for reward. Jogging along behind the woman his curiosity tempts him to pick a hole in the paper. He finds a human head! Can anything be more perfect in the blood and bones style? Meantime the woman gets into a cab and carries off her unpleasant parcels, while the boy rushes after, shouting at every policeman he meets, but afraid to let the cab out of his sight. At long last a policeman does stop the cab. The woman is found in possession of the two bundles, made up of pieces of a dead woman. A man is also discovered, and the two are in custody. Meanwhile the body is supposed to be that of Harriet Lane, a ballet girl, but it has not been definitely recognized. It is believed that she was murdered in 1874, and buried, and for some reason dug up by the murderer, who is a brush maker, named Wainwright, Stokes, the boy, being also in the brush making business. Wainwright was the father of two of this Harriet Lane's children, for whose support he paid twenty-five shillings a week. These are the particulars, as far as they are known. As I have said, it is a bloody, horrible crime, still wrapped in mystery, and I am glad, after mentioning it, to turn to something pleasanter.

The potato is a pleasanter subject. The honest, wholesome, mealy esculent which forms so staple an article of food to many of our fellow beings. It would be possible to grow eloquent about the potato. Upon that humble, homely root the fate of nations might depend. If the crop had not failed thirty years ago in Ireland, a large portion of the Irish people who went to America would probably have remained at home, and thousands of our fellow citizens, many of them perhaps being in affluence, would now be dwelling in cottages by no means ornee, and engaged in the arduous, but not remunerative, occupation of bog-trotting. However, though eloquence is possible from such a text, I shall not attempt it. My only object in referring to it is to note the fact that, on the 29th and 30th of the present month, an International Potato Exhibition is to be held here, in the Alexandra Palace. Conceding the vast importance of the potato to the world, does this not look like running the International Exhibition idea into the ground?

From peace to war, from potatoes to cannon. From the Alexandra Palace to the Woolwich arsenal where on Friday a trial was made of the new eighty-one ton gun invented by Mr. R. S. Fraser, Deputy Assistant Superintendent of the Royal gun factory, if you please. The largest gun ever made hitherto at Woolwich was of thirty-eight tons, so that when this monster was tried, extraordinary arrangements had to be made, and about one hundred and fifty spectators were there, including many artillery officers of distinction. A charge of one hundred and seventy pounds of powder and a ball weighing twelve hundred and fifty pounds were placed in the gun by hydraulic power and twelve men rammed them home. Everybody went as far away as possible and the gun was fired by electricity. A tremendous report and an astonishing echo was the result. The gun recoiled twenty-five feet and the shot penetrated forty-five of sand. It was estimated that the ring of smoke which arose from the gun floated a mile high before it was lost to sight.

Then something was wrong inside the gun, and four several times a man had to crawl into the bore before everything was again ready. The second charge was one hundred and ninety pounds of powder, and the shot penetrated fifty feet of sand, the recoil being thirty-two feet. The third charge was two hundred and ten pounds of powder, and no flaw has been discovered. It is intended to try it with two hundred and fifty pounds.

Such a gun would be an unpleasant thing to have fired at one, and especially so if the ironclads in which one trusts are all as easily sunk as the Vanguard. The court martial is in active operation, and at present it looks as if the officers of the Vanguard would escape, but blame seems to be attaching to those of the Iron Duke. The fact has been proved, however, that the expensive and vaunted British iron fleet is vulnerable from beneath. So that, while capable of resisting enormous force from above, a comparatively insignificant torpedo would be fatal to any one of them.

The epidemic of collisions has been raging. For more than ten days there was a new marine collision reported every day. The last was Vice Chancellor Chatterton's yacht, which ran into another yacht. Fortunately, but little damage was done. The Vice Chancellor sent to ask what damage was done, and confessed that his steering was the cause of the accident. This was very generous on his part, for he is said to be deservedly proud of his seamanship. Indeed, ill-natured people say he is a much better sailor than he is a chancery lawyer.

Do you suppose any of your readers are interested in the change of the name of a little Irish town? Newtownlimivaddy, beloved by those who remember Allison's Peg, Thackeray's Peg, is no longer Newtownlimivaddy. A petition was sent in to change the name. It seems it is found to be inconveniently long, and as the town is nearly three hundred years old, the request to be allowed to drop the first two words of the name does not seem unreasonable, nor did the authorities regard it so, for the Gazette has announced that Limivaddy is officially no longer a new town.

Statistics are coming in and I shall give you two or three figures by way of showing what I would do if I really hated you sufficiently to shower figures upon you. Let us begin with what the area of land under what this year in Great Britain is eight per cent. less than last year. Barley, however, is nine per cent. above. This looks like dear bread and cheap beer. Potatoes and oats are almost the same as last year. Meat, like bread, will be no cheaper, since there are sixty thousand head of cattle, or one per cent. less than last year, with three per cent. less sheep and eight per cent. fewer pigs. If this sort of theory were, like Mr. Tennyson's Brook, to go on forever, starvation would be simply a matter of certainty, and as some statistical people show that coal is to give out, and the gulf stream to fail, a real pessimist can draw a pleasant picture of the merry England of the future, without food or fuel and covered with ice and snow. I may state that I, myself, expect to abandon my position of GAZETTE correspondent a few days before this state of things begins.

I have seen recently a new printing machine which is really wonderful. It has just been built for the London Morning Post, by the Victory Printing Press Company, of Liverpool. This company built the famous machine on which Mr. Beecher's paper, the Christian Union, is printed, and which prints, folds, binds, cuts the edges and prints the colored cover. Like that machine, the one I refer to is made to use rolls of paper like the Bullock press, but in the new machine no stereotyping is necessary, and an alteration in the length or width of a form can be made instantly. That this is invaluable in cases where extra editions are printed and speed is required, must be patent to every one. By an ingenious little invention this machine collects the printed papers and facilitates counting. That is, you can arrange so as to have any number you please laid down instead of one at a time. This, you see, makes counting easy. If every time papers are laid down you know there are ten of them, it is easy to see that a hundred motions will lay down a thousand papers. However, I can't describe the machine, being ignorant of mechanics, but I have been promised a pamphlet describing the new machine, and I shall send it to the GAZETTE when I get it.

But you are not done with statistics yet, for I have a few figures about iron to which I want you to listen. In the first eight months of 1873 there were 2,959,314 tons of iron and steel exported to all parts of the world from England.

In the same time in 1874, the amount was 2,487,162 tons, while during the first eight months of 1875 the amount is only 1,648,444 tons, which goes to show you that hard times do not exist only in America. In glancing over the report of the Board of Trade I find that in 1874 there were 78,531 tons of railroad iron shipped to America, and in the same time this year the amount is only 17,591 tons. No steam engines were shipped to our country, and only £117,860 worth of machinery.

And now with a word about the Bank of England, I will let you off from figures. The half yearly meeting was held the day before yesterday, and a dividend of four and a half per cent. declared. The net profits of the half year were £664,410, and after the dividend was declared the balance in hand amounted to the pretty sum of £3,025,370, which they seem to have laid by for a rainy day.

I have a pleasant fact to wind up with. It is this. At the half yearly Court of Judiciary in Aberdeen the other day, there was not a single prisoner for trial. This same thing occurred once before one hundred and fourteen years ago, but not since. It looks well for the virtue of the Scottish people, and they have a right to be proud of it. X.

MESSRS. CRESSWELL, PARSONS AND LEOPOLD, Commissioners of the Freedmen's Savings and Trust Company of Washington, announce that they will commence paying a dividend of twenty per cent. on all audited claims on the 1st of November.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

POPULAR RESORTS AND HOW TO REACH THEM; Combining a brief description of the principal Summer retreats in the United States, and the routes of travel leading to them, by John B. Bachelder, illustrated by over one hundred and fifty-two wood cuts, many of them from original sketches. Published by John Bachelder, Franklin street, New York.

The author says: "It will be seen at a glance, that this is not a Guide-book:—it does not claim to be,—it is rather a Gazetteer of Pleasure-travel in the United States, and fills a place in illustrated literature heretofore unoccupied. While it gives clearly the information required by the tourist, it also forms a beautiful table-book, valuable either as a souvenir of travel, or a descriptive work on popular localities." The author has done his work well. The book is a handsome specimen of typography, and the information it contains is just such as the traveler will appreciate.

SERMONS OUT OF CHURCH. By the author of "John Halifax, Gentleman." Published by Harper & Bros., New York, and for sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

Miss Muloch has half a dozen every-day talks in this volume, on "What is Self-Sacrifice?" "How to Train up a Parent in the Way he Should Go," "Benevolence or Beneficence," "My Brother's Keeper," and "Gather Up the Fragments." The thoughts are tersely put, and there is much practical philosophy for daily use in what is said. The sermons are intended principally for home use, and they contain a great many homely thrusts. They are sharp and cutting when some of the vanities of humanity are touched upon, and wisely charitable in dealing with natural failings. The book is brimful of condensed wisdom.

WOMAN'S LOVE; or Like and Unlike. By G. J. F. Smith. Published by Estes & Lauriat, Boston. For sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

MAUD OR NINA. By J. G. White Mellville. Published by Estes & Lauriat, Boston. For sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

These are two love stories of the approved order. The first is written with a fair degree of skill. It tells of the constancy of a woman whose husband was accused of smuggling and transported for it, but whose character afterwards came out resplendent. Noble lords and ladies are mixed up in the plot. The second follows the fortunes of a twain who eloped together at the mature age of nineteen years.

LITTLE CLASSICS. Edited by Rossiter Johnson. "Minor Poems." Published by J. R. Osgood & Co., Boston. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

A rare casket of precious jewels. Every poem tells its own sweet story, and over and over again we read that which seems never to grow old. There are gems from the great writers enclosed in this little case, and each and all have a charm and a grace and a tenderness that is irresistible. They are "Minor Poems," which fill the leisure moments of life with visions of beauty.

THE HOUSEHOLD OF BOUVERIE; or, The Elixir of Gold. By Mrs. C. A. Warfield, author of "A Double Wedding; or, How She was Won." Published by T. B. Peterson & Bros., Philadelphia. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

The titles of these books entitle them to a place among the yellow covered literature of the age, but happily the contents of the volumes assign them to a higher plane. They are both stories which deal largely in dissections of the deeper emotions of the human heart—love, hate, jealousy—and the authoress, like Hawthorne, seems to have woven her story simply for the purpose of analyzing these emotions. The stories are written with power, and engage the most intense attention from the outstart.

Under the guise of a story, detailing the worldly sorrows and troubles of two families, the author of this little work contrives to inculcate the great lesson of the paramount importance of being impelled by a clear sense of duty in battling with the world, as in contradistinction to day dreaming. It is well written and though in a measure sombre in character, is a book with a healthy tone and entertaining.

The Sewickley Session and the Sabbath.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

The statements and arguments of my former paper show very conclusively that the Presbytery of Allegheny did right in rejecting the answer of the Sewickley Session. In truth, they could do no otherwise, without stultifying themselves. The very course prescribed by the Presbytery, the Session take upon themselves to declare "unwise and of doubtful expediency!" The Presbytery order the commencement of discipline in the usual mode, viz., a committee of investigation—and the Session reply that it would be "unwise" to do any such thing—better let the matter rest! Better let the publication and sale of this Sunday paper, with its infidel teachings, continue to poison the families around us, and its editor be welcomed to a seat at the Lord's table with us! Better thus endorse his character as a worthy member of the Church of Christ! Better thus aid him in scattering by thousands among the young and thoughtless such edifying Sabbath readings as "boat races," "dog fights," brutal "prize fights of Tom Allen," &c.

Now just here occurs the question, "How has it happened that so intelligent and pious a congregation as that at Sewickley have, for so many years, borne such an infliction as this? If the Session were dumb, why have not the people risen up and demanded a suitable change? There, for example, have set for many years the venerable Dr. McKinney and the worthy Dr. Allison, of the Presbyterian Banner, and one or more other respectable clergymen. There have worshipped a number of laymen, "the excellent of the earth." Have these worthy Doctors and honorable brethren adopted the notion of the Session, viz: that it would be unwise, and of course inexpedient, to press this matter? We are at a loss for any satisfactory answer. We will not entertain the thought that such ministers and such church members "recognize the sacredness of the Sabbath" in the peculiar sense of the Session of Sewickley. They love our Standards too well for that.

But the Session are alarmed lest "the peace and harmony of their church" should be disturbed, and Dr. Bittinger, the Moderator of the Session, told the Presbytery "that to press this matter to an act of discipline," as the Presbytery require, "would break up the Sewickley church!"

The reply to such argument is obvious.

1. What are "peace and harmony" worth, if founded upon a basis of immorality? If the peace of the Sewickley congregation and its very existence have no better foundation, it is not worth preserving. The Presbytery have no wish to break up nor even to injure the congregation, but their judgment certainly deserves some respectful deference. They believe the habitual violation of the Fourth Commandment of the moral law to be as really an offense against good morals as a breach of any other of the ten. And when associated with all the tremendous power of the modern Press, driven by the agency of steam, it is very questionable whether any other form of bold transgression could equal the wide-spread mischief of the Sunday paper, especially if infidel in its tendencies. If the Session take to their bosom one of the chief agents in diffusing this moral pestilence, we will not be at all surprised to hear that they are equally liberal toward any one, for example, who is known as a drunkard!

2. But there are two sides to this subject, of injury to the congregation of Sewickley. The town and vicinity are very attractive as places of residence, being on the railroad and near the city. Hence the growth of that section. But is there no danger that conscientious persons, especially strict Presbyterians, should avoid a church which cherishes and defends such proceedings? Will not all church members who entertain sincere regard for our admirable standards of doctrine and morals shrink from such contamination? Will they not say, "If our presence in communion with the editor of a Sunday paper is a virtual recognition of his right to church membership, we prefer any other evangelical church to this of Sewickley? We will not consent to be counted in with notorious violators of the Fourth Commandment, who flood the country with infidel teachings called Sunday papers. We honor the Sabbath as one of the chief pillars of the social edifice, and essential to the very existence of true religion. We will have nothing to do with Sewickley church." A word to the wise.

A FRIEND OF THE SABBATH.

Pius IX—How He Lives and Works.

Pius IX. rises at five A. M., and from that time till 7:30 is spent in meditation and prayer. After this comes mass, then a slight meal and short repose. Presently the important matter, business, correspondence to be reviewed, afterward delicate affairs to be thought over, and most particular private audiences. At twelve Pius is prepared to receive the world. He will see any persons, of any country or religion—will converse with all, and give each his hand to kiss, and make a pleasant little speech to every one. Upon larger presentations being made he sits upon his throne, and makes more serious and set speeches, and of a more eloquent nature. He is very fond of being familiar, and prefers to talk as a genial old father. He generally chooses some verse from Scripture or the litany to discourse upon on solemn occasions, and invariably adapts his address to the circumstances and the people. He is naturally very kind-hearted, simple in his tastes and genial.

THE Rev. J. D. Fulton, the Baptist preacher who made a reputation in Boston on "gin and milk," and went to Brooklyn to join the galaxy of celebrities in the City of Churches, has got into fresh trouble there, and the deacons and trustees are trying to get rid of him. The New York World, with more force than suavity, remarks of him: "There is not a vulgar ruffian in the pulpit anywhere who is fitter to be put out of it than this man Fulton, or from whom the Christian Church needs more urgently to be relieved."

TWENTY-FIVE years ago Kossuth was a great hero in American estimation, and was received in this country with unbounded admiration and enthusiasm, while the Government of Austria was correspondingly cursed. Now we see Kossuth defeated as a candidate for the Diet of that Hungary which he sought to set free, and his party in that country "utterly displaced." The dream of an independent Magyar republic has vanished, the Magyars are reconciled to Austria, and Kossuth is no more honored by them. Such is life, especially in the political world.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, October 1, 1875.

Yesterday was rather remarkable for quietness and busy preparation for the quarterly bill day, than for anything else. The banks have been accumulating funds for this purpose, in the form of deposits to meet demands that will be quite sure to be promptly made. We hear of little else that is noteworthy, business pursuing the even tenor of its way.

To-day, October 1, the semi-annual interest matures on the Allegheny Valley Railroad eastern extension 7s, do. do. on the income endorsed 7s of the same company, on the Camden & Amboy Railroad 6s of 1875, on the Camden & Atlantic second mortgage 7s, on the Chartiers Valley Railroad 7s, on the Northern Central Railroad third mortgage 6s, on the North Pennsylvania Railroad chattel mortgage 10s, on the Oil Creek & Allegheny River Railroad first mortgage 7s, on the second mortgage and the general registered mortgage 6s of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, on the Perkiomen Railroad first mortgage 7s, on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad first mortgage 6s, on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad first mortgage 7s, and on the American Steamship Company 6s. In addition to the above enumerated interest payments maturing to-morrow, the following named companies have their semi-annual dividend periods during the month: The Camden and Atlantic Railroad, the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company, the Westmoreland Coal Company, the Cambria Iron Company, the Empire Transportation Company, the Nescopec Coal Company, and the Southern Transportation Company.

The following figures, taken from the statistical abstract of the United Kingdom for 1874, are interesting as showing the growth of the railroad system in England and Wales, in Scotland and Ireland, and in the United Kingdom as a whole, from 1860 to 1874. The length of the lines open in England and Wales at the end of 1874 was 11,622 miles, an increase of about 4,000 miles in fourteen years; the total paid-up capital amounted to $2,543,600,485, an increase of $1,100,142,430; and the total number of passengers carried during 1874 was 432,522,464, more than three times the number carried in 1860. The total traffic receipts in 1874 amounted to $240,-723,735, and in 1860 to $117,364,730. The net traffic receipts for passengers and goods in 1874 amounted to $113,366,355, exceeding the net receipts in 1860 by $52,-294,395. The total paid-up capital has increased annually at a rate of more than $74,000,000 a year, and of $90,000,000 for 1874. In Scotland the total length of line open in 1874 was 2,699 miles. The total paid-up capital in North Britain in 1874 was $356,635,700, as compared with $194,-193,705. The number of passengers was 38,240,011, an increase of nearly 22,000,000 in the fourteen years. The gross traffic receipts were $36,172,475, more than double those of 1860, while the working expenses had risen from $6,530,640 in 1860 to $18,171,760 in 1874, and the net traffic receipts from $8,095,505 to $14,229,530. Ireland has the smallest length of line among the three divisions of the United Kingdom, and the annual increase of new line is also in a smaller proportion. Last year the total length open was 2,127, being an increase of about 8,000 miles in the fourteen years. The capital, which stood at twenty and a half millions in 1860, had risen to nearly thirty millions; the total number of passengers conveyed in 1874 stood at 16,554,226, having risen at the rate of nearly half a million annually during the fourteen years. The total traffic receipts for 1874 were $12,610,195, as compared with $6,942,235 in 1860, and the net traffic receipts from $3,726,555 to $5,-608,865. In the whole of the United Kingdom the total length of line open at the close of last year was 16,448 miles, an increase of about 6,000 miles in fourteen years. The total paid up capital amounted to $3,497,749,595, an increase of $1,574,-165,645 in the fourteen years. The total number of passengers had risen from 163,-483,579 in 1860 to 478,316,701 in 1874, or from 15,669 per mile in 1860 to 29,081 per mile in 1874.

NEW YORK, September 30, 1875.

The customs receipts were $320,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $213,000. The clearings were $38,000,000. Bankers' bills 479@480. The bids for Government gold were $2,555,000, ranging from 116 to 117.08¾. $1,000,000 was awarded at 117.06 @117.08¾. Gold opened and closed at 117¼, with sales in the meantime at 117. The rates paid for borrowing were 3-64, 1-16 and 1-32 per diem, and 7 per cent. per annum. At the close loans were made flat. Governments were in good demand at ⅛@¼ advance. Railroad bonds were firm. State securities were quiet.

The stock market was strong and higher in early dealings, and prices advanced ¼ to ¾ per cent., Lake Shore rising from 53⅞ to 54¾, Pacific Mail from 37¼ to 37¾, Western Union from 75¾ to 76¼, Northwest from 39⅞ to 40, and Ohios from 16½ to 17¼. The improvement was partially lost after midday, when Missouri Pacific broke from 43¾ to 39¾, and Atlantic & Pacific preferred from 10 to 9½. The decline in these stocks was precipitated by a flood of unfavorable rumors, none of which could be authenticated. Stocks were firm during the last hour of business, with an advance of ¼ to ¾ per cent. from the lowest prices of the afternoon. Lake Shore advanced to 54⅝a 54¾, the closing quotation. Northwest closed at 40, the highest price of the day. There was some western buying of Northwest to-day on an improving condition of business in the West and Northwest. Rock Island rose to 108¼. Pacific Mail was firmer on the statement, and advanced from 37¼ to 37¾, closing at 37½. The steamer Acapulca, which sailed to-day, took 250 passengers and 60,000 tons of freight. Western Union advanced to 76⅝ on a report that the Anglo-American cable would advance its rates to one dollar per word on and after Monday next. Missouri Pacific recovered to 41½, but at the close reacted to 39½. The other changes were slight in late dealings. The transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 126,000 shares, of which 84,000 were Pacific Mail, 15,000 Western Union, 8,000 Northwest, 45,000 Lake shore, and 36,000 Ohios.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, September 30, 1875.

The leading merchandise markets continue fairly active, but devoid of any important features to which reference has not already been made in these columns.

APPLES—Continue to come forward freely, but with a steady demand there has been no accumulation as yet, and prices are maintained. Sales, in a jobbing way, at $3 a4 per bbl. for good to choice, and $2a2,50 for common.

BUTTER—Prime to choice solid packed, the supply of which is accumulating, is dull, and prices are weak and drooping; roll is in fair demand, but it, too, is not as active as it was a few days since. The former may be quoted at 25a28 and the latter at 28a30c. Our latest advices from New York report that market better, although prices have been higher here relatively than in the seaboard markets for some time past, and this accounts for the increased receipts. Commission merchants report that the bulk of the receipts recently have been common in point of quality.

BROOMS—The decline in Corn has induced manufacturers to reduce the price of Brooms. We quote "Union Factory" prices to-day:—No. 2, $2.25; No. 3 hurl, $2,50; No. 4 hurl, $3,00; No. 5 hurl, $3,25; No. 6 hurl, $3,50; No. 3 carpet, $3,75; No. 4 carpet, $4; No. 5 carpet, $4,25; Fancy parlor, $5,00; Steamboat brooms, $3,25a3,50; Railroad, $3,50a4; Whisks, $1,50a1,75; Hearths, $1,50 a1,75.

BEANS—In light stock, but there is not much inquiry, nor is it to be expected at this season of the year; quoted at $2,10a 2,15 per bu. in a jobbing way, for mediums.

CHEESE—The market is fairly active and firm, but prices remain unchanged; prime Ohio Factory, 12a12 1-2 in a jobbing way. A New York exchange, of Wednesday, reports that market as follows:—Our market has advanced but is not yet in full sympathy with the high interior markets. The middle country advance has done little else than excite our trade, but it has made many holders of fine late made stock very firm in their views. The home trade seems to have come into market all in a body, and for the past few days they have taken fancy lots at full prices. The strongest feeling is in last of August and September cheese. Many dealers seem to feel that the market has a sure upward course, and such a result would be very desirable after the unusual pause in our August markets.

DRIED PEAS—New are offering at $1,90 a2, but the demand is light as yet.

EGGS—In light stock, and the market is generally reported firm, although prices are not quotably higher; we continue to quote at 22a23—but few sales as yet above 22c.

FLOUR—There is a very fair local trade, but the market continues quiet and prices remain unchanged. Old winter wheat flour quoted at $7,00a7,50 for red, and $7,75 a8,25 for amber and white; old spring wheat $7,00a7,25, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas.

GROCERIES—There has been a very fair degree of activity manifested in the grocery trade recently, and while the leading markets are reported firm; there has been no quotable change in values for several days.

GRAIN—The receipts of grain continue liberal, but with a very fair demand, there has been no accumulation, and this, in connection with a firmer feeling in the west, has imparted more confidence to the markets. There is a steady demand for old amber Wheat, which is in light stock, and prices well maintained; $1,40a1,45 for red; new crop Penna. and Ohio red $1,25a135 as to quality and condition. There is much more inquiry for the former than the latter. The Oat mark is quiet and unchanged; Penna. and Ohio, 43a45 for mixed to white, and prime western white, 46a47c. Corn continues offish as the feeling is general, that prices will rule lower in view of a heavy crop; shelled quoted on track at 69a71c, and ear at 73a74c, as to quality. Rye is quiet and nominal at 85a90c. Penna. and Ohio fall. Barley, $1,20a1,30.

HAY—Baled is coming in more freely, and the market is easier in consequence; we continue to quote at $15a16 per bale, and $19a21 for timothy.

ONIONS—$2,50a3 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued fair demand for the hog products, and the market is strong, but unchanged; within the past ten days, however, their has been a sharp advance, and general outlook at the present writing, is favorable to the selling interest, as stocks are pretty well run down and hogs are high.

POTATOES—Irish continue to come in freely, and the market is weak in consequence; quotable by the carload at 35a40c per bushel. Sweets unchanged at $2,50a3,50 per bbl, the outside figure for prime Jerseys.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, September 30, 1875.

The market for Refined was, if anything, a shade firmer to-day, although as compared with Wednesday, there was no quotable change in prices; Philadelphia, 13¾; New York, 14; Baltimore, 13 1-2; on Penna. cars here quotable at 11; on Connellsville cars, 10¾. Crude was weaker; immediate shipment, $1,55a1,60; "United," $1,33, "Union," $1,25.

C. A. Carpenter, Esq., Freight Agent of the Pennsylvania railroad Company, has officially notified the oil refiners that during the month of October, 1875, the rates on oil from Pittsburgh will be as follows, viz.:—On refined to New York, owners risk, $1,75 per barrel; to Philadelphia and Baltimore, $1,30; when carried at the company's risk, 15c higher. On all shipments of refined oil a rebate of the amount of freight paid on Crude oil, allowing 1 1-3 barrels Crude for each barrel of refined will be allowed. The above rates are only for October. A report it current in the east that a further advance of 15c a barrel will be established on November 1st. The refiners here are feeling uneasy in anticipation of the change, as the present rate on oil pays the Pennsylvania company better than any class of merchandise carried, and an advance at present will work to the advantage of competing points. The Baltimore & Ohio has not, as yet, announced any change. If their rates are to remain as usual, the greater part of the refined oil will be shipped to Baltimore.

Chicago Lumber Market.

The wholesale market was again active, the trading being principally in inch lumber, which comprised the bulk of the offerings. Common and medium grades of inch sold readily, but choice cargoes were dull and easy. Piece stuff was in moderate supply and sold at recent prices, or at $8,25. Common to medium inch sold at $8a12, and choice was held at $12,50a15. Shingles were steady at $2,20a2,40. About 20 cargoes left the docks, which were nearly closed at one time, but late in the day several new cargoes arrived, which were carried over.

Chicago Seed Market.

The continued dullness caused weakness in timothy, especially among holders of assigned lots, and probably prices were shaded slightly for large lots. Sales were made at $2,15a2,30 for poor to good and $2,35a2,45 for prime to choice. Clover was quiet at $6 a6,50. Flax was dull at $1,25a1,42 1-2. The receipts were again heavy, and the crushers being pretty well filled up, are not buying, and at the moment shippers are holding back.

CATTLE.

The run of Yard Cattle shows an excess of 80 cars, as compared with last week, and with a light attendance of buyers, a diminished demand, and unfavorable reports from the east, the market dull, and dragged all the way through. There were quite a number shipped on in first hands yesterday, but to-day at noon there was supposed to be 50 to 60 cars remaining in the yards unsold, and nearly all the buyers full, and it looked as if these would have to be shipped on, or held over for next week. Prices on best cattle quoted down ⅜ to ½ a cent, and common and medium ¼ to ⅜. It is worthy of notice that the common grades sold more readily and at better prices, relatively than good beef cattle as there were buyers for the former than the latter. Some salesmen reported that good stock steers brought as much as last week, but this grade was the only exception; all other discriptions ruled, as already stated considerably lower, and the market was the hardest sellers, have experienced for several months, if not this year.

There were only 35 cars bought by Philadelphia, against from 60 to 90 cars ordinarily, but there have been some 40 cars shipped on in first hands, and this will doubtless be increased considerably within the next 48 hours; New York buyers took 20 cars; country dealers 70 cars and local buyers some 20 cars, making 183 cars in all, whereas the receipts of yard cattle were 252 cars. This being a holiday week with the Jews, none of the Jewish buyers were in attendance, which was not without its effect in depressing trade, and then the New York market has been reported dull and heavy all week.

RAILROAD AND STOCK YARD COMBINATIONS—SERIOUS CHARGES.

The New York World of Wednesday, in its live stock report, says:—Groups and knots of live stock dealers were gathered in various places about the markets warmly discussing the different methods which have been proposed for cheapening the cost of handling beef-cattle and dressed beef so that the price to the consumer might be lessened. The recent arbitrary course of the combination stock-yard and railroad interests was especially considered. Among the things complained of are the following:

1. The freight charges are higher than they need be for the bulk of the shippers who pay schedule rates, and lower than can be afforded for a favored few who are expected, like decoy ducks, to lead a large number of fellow shippers to destruction.

2. The yardage charge of 40c per head for beeves, 10 cents per head for veals, 5 cents per head for sheep and 8c per head for hogs, is regarded as exorbitant, as is also the charge for feeding at the rate of $2,50 per one hundred lbs. for hay, and $2 per bushel for corn.

3. The attempt on the part of the railroads to compel shippers to select one or another of the stock-yards in which the officers of the road are either directly or indirectly interested, for the sale of their stock by billing and unloading the stock into such yards only, and sanctioning the additional charge for yardage, which is demanded before the stock is delivered to the consignee.

HOGS.

The market to-day was dull for Philadelphia hogs, as there was scarcely any demand, and, as compared with yesterday, prices were a shade lower. Yorkers, however, continue to meet with a steady demand, are selling just about as fast as they arrive, and that, too, at full prices. Philadelphia buyers have been buying very sparingly for several weeks past; it is claimed that this grade of hogs is cheaper in Chicago than here, in consequence of which shippers are increasing their purchases there, hence a few cars over and above what is required to supply the actual necessities of buyers here would be sufficient to smash the market for this class of hogs, and in addition, the impression prevails that current rates cannot be sustained much longer anyhow. The receipts of all grades of hogs have been light for several weeks past, and to this more than all other causes combined, may be attributed the fact that prices have ruled much higher than was generally expected, but just as soon as the receipts at the leading points commence to increase, and this is not likely to be much longer delayed, a break in prices is almost sure to follow, as packers, in view of the fact that they made little or no money last year, are not likely to start in this season at anything like current rates, which are higher than they were at the corresponding time last year.

QUOTATIONS.

Philadelphia Hogs	9,00a9,25
York Hogs—corn-fed	8,00a8,60
Grassers, as per quality	7,00a7,50
Rough Stags, old sows	6,00a6,50

A fancy lot of Philadelphia hogs could probably have been disposed of to-day at 9½c.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply on sale this week did not vary much from that of last week as regards numbers, nor was there a great deal of difference in point of quality, but there was some difference in the general tone and position of the market. Prime fat sheep were in very fair demand, and sold pretty well at last week's figures, but common, light fine wool sheep were dull, and as the supply of this character was in excess of the demand, prices ruled lower. There was a better feeling to-day, excepting for common stock, than there was yesterday, and some salesmen reported that they realized better prices, which was owing to very light receipts last night, and some buyers had not obtained all they wanted. Lambs and Jersey Ewes continue dull, but good stock wethers continue to meet with a steady demand, and bring full prices, say 4 1-2a4 3-4c per lb.

L. A. WELSH,
Sergeant Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening at the point has undergone but little change for several days, the marks indicating 18 inches. Cloudy and warm, threatening rain.

WORK on Capt. Ad. Poe's new boat is being forward vigorously, and she will soon be ampleted.

THE Monongahela was reported stationary at head waters yesterday, while the Allegheny was falling.

IT is claimed that Captain Sweeney's new boat Fanchon will carry more freight on 30 inches of water than any other boat on the river.

A COAL boat is reported sunk at Brush creek, and will be in the way of coal tows whenever a rise comes, but it is not an obstruction to the packets.

A PADUCAH dispatch, under date of the 28th, says:—After three trials, the Eckert succeeded in raising the Florence Lee this morning, and brought her here this afternoon. She will be put on the ways to-morrow for repairs, which, it is estimated, will cost $5,000 or $6,000, as she is pretty badly finished up.

ST. LOUIS advices under date of 28th, report as follows:—Business improving. Boats from the upper trades are bringing in large quantities of stuff for exhibition at the Fair. The new steamer Mary Bell, is rapidly nearing completion. The boilers and shafts are in position, and the wheels are being filled. The chimneys will be put up next week. A great deal of sickness prevails on the river, mostly fever and ague. The crew of the Jefferson City packet, R. W. Dugan, are nearly all down with it, and a number of the officers of the Anchor Line boats have been obliged to stop off on the account of illness. The Belle of St. Souis, which arrived from the Missouri River to-day, reports the steamer Metamora sunk 4 miles below Boonville. She is a smaill craft of little value.

HOME NEWS.

Hymeneal.

We extend congratulations to our young friend, Mr. James C. Thompson, of Allegheny, upon his fortuitous desertion of bachelor ranks, and his felicitous surrender to Hymen's gentle power. His many friends will be pleased to learn that in taking this new departure he was highly fortunate in securing an estimable life companion, who will make him a true helpmeet, as well in the shadows, as in the sunshine of the matrimonial way. We sincerely wish them an abundance of prosperity.

Base Ball.

At Union Park yesterday the Mutuals again defeated the Downers by a score of 8 to 2—a considerable reduction from the game played on Monday last, when the score was 22 to 3.

The Braddock and East End clubs play at Braddocks this afternoon.

S. P. Connor, umpire in the game on the South Side on Wednesday between the Fats and Leans has decided in favor of the former by a score of 20 to 19.

The D. Spencer and Liddell clubs play at Union Park to-morrow afternoon.

The Big Bonanza and Medium Size clubs play their first game on the South Side this afternoon, at the corner of Twenty-first and Carson streets.

Condolence.

We extend sincere sympathy to our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Knowlson, in the great bereavement which has fallen across their pathway, by the death of one of the young members of their household. The sad event occurred at the family residence in Lower St. Clair township, near the city line, on Thursday evening, and the little victim—Robert Coward Knowlson—was but eight years and six months old, when he was called away. He had been suffering for several weeks, and though at first no fears were entertained of the result, the disease baffled all medical skill and the attention of loving friends, and terminated his young life. "Robbie" was a very bright, vivacious, intelligent child, the idol of the household, and a universal favorite with relatives, playmates and visitors. His death leaves a sad vacancy in a hitherto happy home circle, and his parents, in their hour of sorrow, have the tenderest sympathy of every friend.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Singular Explosion—A Man Instantly Killed.

A singular accident occured in a scrap iron yard on the conrer of Thirty-third and Railroad streets yesterday about noon, which resulted in the instant death of a man whose name we were unable to learn. It appears that the unfortunate individual was hammering a short piece of inch gas pipe, which exploded, tearing one of his hands from his arm and mutilating his body. After the accident, it was impossible to find any part of the hand, as it had been blown to atoms. It is thought the explosion was caused by nitro glycerine. The Coroner had not been notified of the accident last night, so that official was unable to give any particulars.

TO RESUME OPERATIONS.

The Superior Rail Mill of Allegheny to Start in a Few Days.

The residents of the Ninth ward, Allegheny, were somewhat excited yesterday by the report that the Superior Rail Mill in that ward would resume in a few days. The owners of the mill held a meeting yesterday and agreed to put the mill in operation, and appointed a committee to attend to getting it in readiness. As this mill usually employs about 500 or 600 men, the interest manifested in the Ninth ward can be readily understood, especially as the winter season is almost upon them. If this mill resumes operation it will relieve the Board of Poor Directors very much, as their funds are almost exhausted and they would be unable to give the same relief to the residents of that ward as was done last winter.

THE STEUBENVILLE RACE.

The three mile single scull race yesterday afternoon on the Ohio river, at Steubenville, between Frank Denmarsh, of this city, and John Pedgrift, of Chicago, for $250 a side, resulted in a draw. The start was made about five o'clock. Denmarsh gave his opponent thirty yards start and the choice of water. They got away in good style at the word "go." Denmarsh gained rapidly until they had pulled about four hundred yards when they fouled. Separating at once they pulled over the course, Denmarsh taking the lead and maintaining it until the finish. He came in four lengths ahead, having made the three miles in 19:38¼. Pedgrift claimed the race on account of the foul, but the referee decided it a draw. This decision created great dissatisfaction on both sides. The betting was very brisk, odds of two to one being offered on Denmarsh, and large sums were staked on the result. There was a large crowd in attendance and the time is said to be the best on record. It is two or three minutes better than that made by Geo. Englehart, on Lake Saratoga, a few days ago.

A SIXTH STREET FIRE.

Just before twelve o'clock last night a fire was discovered in the cellar of Grabowsky's hat, cap and gent's furnishing store, at No. 11 Sixth street, by the officer who patrols that beat. He turned in an alarm from box 12, bringing out the engines in the lower district, but owing to the difficulty encountered in reaching the fire it took some time to extinguish it. The hose was poked through a grating in the pavement and five or six firemen vigorously squirted water into the department of the cellar usually set aside for coal, without really knowing whether they were doing any execution or not. A hole was finally cut in the floor at the entrance of the store, through which water was thrown, and a second line of hose was run through Tobias' establishment, immediately adjoining, and an application of the aqueous fluid was made to the fiery element from the rear. In the course of a quarter of an hour the fire was put out, the damage done by it not having been very great. It did not reach the first floor, and the destruction was confined to the contents of the cellar, which probably consisted chiefly of empty boxes.

The new "Police Manual," in its statement of the persons who shall be admitted to fires, designates "reporters wearing badges." Unfortunately our reporter did not possess one of those articles, and he was obliged to rely on his stock of the article generally known as "cheek" to find out the extent of the fire. In pursuing his investigations he was stopped by an officer, who was courteous enough in his manner of doing it, and asked to display his insignia.

"I have no badge," said the writer.

"Well, you ought to have have one," replied the officer. "The new Constitution requires it."

"What's the odds. You know of your own knowledge that I am a reporter and ain't that enough."

"But you see that don't make any difference. No matter if I do know you the new Constitution prohibits your admission unless you can show a badge."

The officer's objections were right enough, according to the Police Manual, which he had been reading with such energy and awe that he finally became so deeply impressed with its gigantic importance that it had got mixed up in his intellect with the new Constitution of our State.

PUBLISHERS' MEETING.

The Press and the Exposition.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the publishers of the Press of the two cities was held at the office of the Chronicle. The object of the gathering was to consider matters relative to the proper entertainment of the members of the Press from abroad who should visit the Exposition, Colonel James P. Barr presided, and there was considerable discussion relative to what had been done in the matter. The proposition to hold a banquet and hop, and the collection of moneys from outside sources, for the purpose, was condemned, as was also the proposition looking to the publication of an exclusive daily Exposition journal in the Exposition building. The opinion of the meeting was that the publishers could properly and fraternally entertain their visiting brethren without any outside aid, and that the daily press of Allegheny county was fully able to take care of the Exposition and see that it was properly brought before the people.

After this discussion the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the publishers of the Press of Pittsburgh and Allegheny that there be no banquet given by them or on their behalf on the occasion of the forthcoming opening of the Exposition; and further, that they will not hold themselves responsible directly or indirectly for any obligations incurred in getting up an entertainment of this character at this time.

Resolved, That an Executive Committee be appointed, to consist of one member from each of the established newspaper offices of the two cities, to take charge of the interests of the press during the coming Exposition, and to attend to such business and duties as said interests may call for in the premises.

Resolved, That recognizing the importance of the Exposition, and the many advantages that may accrue from it to the business interests of the city, manufacturing and otherwise, it has our best wishes for its success, and we shall use our best efforts to make it in every respect equal to the fondest and most sanguine wishes of its projectors.

A committee was then appointed to wait upon the Executive Committee of the Industrial Institute, and notify them of this action of the publishers. This committee, after attending to their duties, returned, and reported that the matter had been left in the hands of the publishers, as noted elsewhere, and that all differences had been amicably arranged, so that there would be no conflict hereafter.

The report was accepted, and the Publishers' Executive Committee, as called for in the resolutions, given above, was appointed as follows:

Dispatch, D. O'Neil; GAZETTE, N. P. Reed; Chronicle, J. G. Seibeneck; Post, J. P. Barr; Leader, R. P. Nevin; Telegraph, T. McConnell; Commercial, R. Errett; Mail, W. W. Martin; Volksblatt, C. F. Bauer; Freiheits Freund, William Neeb; Republicaner, M. Henne. The Committee elected Col. J. P. Barr chairman, and Mr. J. G. Seibeneck Secretary, after which the meeting adjourned.

ELMIRA DICKSON, a colored woman, was jailed by Alderman Butler yesterday to await a hearing on a charge of larceny, preferred by Emma Yaw.

JAMES MALOY had a hearing before the Mayor yesterday morning on a charge of assault and battery, brought by James Coen, in having cut the latter with a knife at a Second avenue boarding house. The hearing resulted in the holding of Maloy for trial in $1,000 bail.

LIZZIE AND MAGGIE ROXBURY, Kate Hooper and Rose A. McCormick, girls about fourteen years of age, were sent to jail yesterday, by Mayor McCarthy, for ten days, for vilely abusing Miss Mary Heard. The Mayor said the girls were a bad lot, and that if they came before him again he would be obliged to send them to the Work House.

The above products are pure spirits of Petroleum, redistilled, treated and deodorized; they are much superior to common or raw benzine, and are specially adapted to the uses indicated.

In constructing a works for the manufacture of Gasoline and kindred products on a large scale, this enterprising firm have supplied a want long felt in this community, and we wish them the success their enterprise merits.

THE EXPOSITION GUIDE.

An Erroneous Impression Corrected—Private Enterprise Given Free Play—A Guide that Every Visitor and Exhibitor Will Need.

Among the matters of essential importance to exhibitors and visitors in the coming Exposition is the publication of an accurate and complete Exposition guide. Without a guide, the exhibition could not be thoroughly appreciated, and much of its beauty and magnificence would be lost to the visitor—while such a pamphlet would have a further interest, from the fact that it would be a pleasant memento for the visitor. The people accordingly have been looking for the announcement of such a publication, and an erroneous impression got abroad, that there was to be a guide issued that was to have the official endorsement of the managers—in other words, was to be a sort of monopoly to crowd out private enterprise. This subject came up for consideration at the meeting of the Executive Committee yesterday afternoon, when it was decided not to grant any such exclusive privilege, but to throw the matter open to all comers, and to put all upon an equal footing. So there is to be neither an official Exposition daily, or an official Exposition guide—all journalistic matters connected with the Exposition having been relegated to the daily press of Allegheny county and to the private enterprise of publishers. This action meets with general approval, and cannot but result in a better guide for where the field is so free the greatest care will be taken to make the publication more full and accurate, as none but the best will find favor with the public.

WHAT THE GUIDE WILL CONTAIN.

Under this impetus the Herald Publishing Company of the South Side have gone to work with increased energy and at largely additional expense upon a Guide which they propose to publish. They have been working upon the matter for some time and propose to publish not only a Guide for the Exposition but for the two cities. It will be printed on fine tinted paper, and be got up in the most elegant style of the art typographical. Its reading matter will embrace brief descriptions of all the prominent points of interest in and around the cities, with plain directions how to reach each place mentioned; official time tables of all the different railroads centering in the city; a record of the officials of the county and two cities; reference to some of the leading business houses; statistics of the leading branches of industry, &c., together with a full and accurate list of the articles exhibited at the Exposition; the name of the exhibitor of each; the rules of the Exposition; the premiums offered; the various departments classified; the prices of admission, &c.; the way to go through the Exposition and "take the show in detail;" names of the officers; and in fact all matters pertaining to a thorough knowledge of the whole affair. Then the Guide will be made still more attractive by a large number of beautiful illustrations. Among these will be a grand exterior view of the Exposition building, with views of the interior of the several departments; views around the cities, of prominent buildings, leading hotels, churches, large business houses and banks, Soldiers' monument and parks, bridges, and other points of interest. These views have been prepared at great expense and are accurate, and of themselves would make a beautiful volume of choice pictures. Thus neither expense or care will be spared to make the Guide as accurate and beautiful a publication as even the most fastidious lover of perfect typographical, artistic and literary work could desire. It promises to be thus not only necessary as a book of reference, but valuable as a handsome souvernir of the Exposition.

ITS CIRCULATION.

Arrangements have been made to give the Guide widespread circulation, to accommodate the many persons, both in and out of the cities, who will want to secure a copy in advance of their visit. To this end, it will be distributed, by the train boys, on all the trains leading out of the city, and will also be on sale at the periodical stores and the Exposition building. It will be also stereotyped, so there will be an abundant supply for the thousands who will "take in" the Exposition during the month in which it will be in progress.

The Herald company have thus gone into this matter with a determination to win success by pre-eminently deserving it. It gives us pleasure to chronicle such enterprise, and we believe such business foresight will result in a proper pecuniary reward.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

The success of the "Big Bonanza" still continues unabated. Those who love and appreciate exquisite humor and acting should not fail to see it.

Fifth Avenue Theater.

Lillie Wilkinson appears every evening in the play of "Little Sunshine," which is preceded by an excellent olio.

Trimble's Varieties.

Library Hall—Mrs. Chanfrau.

Mrs Henrietta Chanfrau, the cultured and popular "society" star, supported by C. W. Tayleure's great New Orleans Company, will appear in Library Hall, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. "Was She Right,"—the title of the play announced for the first evening's performance, has never before been produced in this city, but is pronounced by the press of other cities as "pure and lofty in its conception, and draws its interest and power from a higher source than mere sensation. It makes no harmful suggestion, and possesses an irresistible charm as a dramatic performance." Mrs. Chanfrau is too well known by the lovers of the drama here to need any introduction. In her line of characters, she is one of the very best actresses on the stage, and taken in connection with the fact that the company supporting her is composed of artists who are among the ablest and best repu ted of their profession, first class entertainments may be anticipated both evenings.

Theodore Thomas' Concerts.

Theodore Thomas will give two grand concerts in this city, at Library Hall, on the evenings of the 27th and 28th of this month, by a troupe which is eminently acknowledged the largest and most perfect concert company which has ever traveled, either in this country or Europe. Madame Madeline Schiller, the celebrated pianiste, will make her first appearance on this occasion, and the entire troupe consists of only first-class artists. Further announcement will be made in the course of a few days.

Dancing Academy.

The class for masters and Misses commences to-morrow afternoon at Prof. De Longs Dancing Academy, at Lafayette Hall. The ladies and gentlemen's evening class has already been opened, and is filling up rapidly.

A Darkened Life.

In Nashua, New Haven, resides a young girl whose pitiful lot excites the deepest sympathy, yet for whom sympathy can do but little in alleviation of the sad misfortune which has darkened her life. By the explosion of a kerosene lamp, she was terribly burnt about the head and face, and although she survived her injuries, she was thenceforth disfigured for life, and the rosy face of childhood was changed to a mask—a travesty on the human countenance—absolutely frightful in its hideousness. In Lowell, Massachsetts, where she once lived, so great was the horror excited by her appearance that she was forbidden by the authorities to show herself on the street. At Nashua she ventured out the other day and several ladies fainted at sight of her, and a call is now made upon the authorities of that place to forbid her appearance on the streets. What a mornful fate is hers! to live through the terrible physical sufferings only to endure henceforward a keener mental anguish in the knowledge that she is a thing of horror, to be abhorred and shunned by human kind, with no hope in the future except the grave, which shall hide her deformities from the gaze of her fellow beings.—Boston Transcript.

Were families to use Elaine. "The Family Safeguard," oil, manufactured by Warden and Oxnard of Pittsburgh, Pa., no such distressing results as the above could exist, as it is absolutely non-explosive under all circumstances.

Malaria-Breeding Floods.

The recent tremendous freshets which have flooded some of the most fertile low lands of the United States, have not only caused wide spread ruin and disaster, but have, as might have been expected, been followed by an unprecedented outcrop of fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other diseases of a malarial tpye. The sun's rays, acting upon the saturated vegetation and isolated pools left by the retiring waters, have exhaled a far-reached miasma, which is pregnant with disease. The most reliable safeguard against it is found to be Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the present demand for which, more particularly in the West and Southwest, where the floods have been most severe, exceeds any which has existed in the past, popular as the great national remedy and preventive of malaria has always been. Never has it been put to such a crucial test, or its claims more conspicuously vindicated.
